BOY SMARTS & BOYS ON TARGET.

RATHER than disapproving or suppressing boys' high-spirited physicality, aggression, or shy reluctance, how can parents respond to their varied needs and structure their environments so boys can express these drives in safe, respectful ways?

HOW can parents listen beyond a boy's frustration and anger to connect with him and to understand his deeper needs?

HOW can parents tune into the sensitivities of their son while also being careful not to do things for him that he can do for himself?

HOW can parents help a boy to settle himself at school and complete important school assignments?

HOW can parents set loving limits as they mentor their son to be assertive while also to respect others?

HOW can parents work with school staff to ensure that their son receives optimal support and guidance?

BARRY MACDONALD is a skilled educator, author, and Registered Clinical Counsellor, who will expertly lead you through the corridors of boyhood. His highly practical and positive approach will inspire you to mentor your son to be successful at school, while also developing his ingenuity and his integrity.

AGENDA

WHEN boys get stuck in their scholastic or emotional development and compensate with a show of hyper-masculinity they need parents and significant adults to mentor them on the road to a healthy and socially constructive manhood.

SELF-ESTEEM COMES FROM THE LIVED EXPERIENCE OF FEELING CAPABLE,
CONNECTED TO OTHERS,
AND KNOWING THAT YOU
HAVE SOMETHING TO OFFER.

- Understanding boys' varied needs and seeking positive solutions.
- Reframing adult attitudes to cultivate resiliency in boys.
- How to respond to emotional melt-downs so boys will talk and listen.
- How to communicate with a boy who is withdrawn, angry, or distant.
- How to discipline constructively so that your son learns through the clarity of your actions.
- How to encourage healthy independence so confidence will flourish.
- What is the trouble with traditional learning for boys in the electronic age?
- How to help boys navigate today's cultural realities...video games, facebook.
- How to foster peace with siblings/peers to nurture empathy and compassion.
- How to teach your son effective conflict management.
- How to respond to poor grades, homework, ADHD, bullying, excessive school assignments, anxiety, and other motivation concerns.
- How low levels of literacy/numeracy contribute to increased chances of incarceration, compromised health, and often a sense of lifelong inadequacies and what to do about it.
- How to support a boy's internal motivation and advocate for him at school.
- Help your boy to develop a sense of community and global citizenship, healthy skepticism, respect for others, and appreciation for diversity.

- As academic expectations have intensified in recent years evidence shows that boys trail girls in graduation rates, academic performance, and extracurricular leadership positions.
- We know that boys can have a tougher time than girls sitting still, listening, writing, and negotiating with the peers. When learning needs are misunderstood and discouragement increases, boys are more likely to buck the system and rebel. How can parents support boys to navigate classroom learning so they can find their own pathway to success?

Mentor your son to become a man of courage and compassion.
